Nearly all the leading members of the Council, popular and official, whose opinions have any influence in moulding public sentiment, have spoken upon the subject of Confederation, and the record left is unquestionably in favor of those who advocated the adoption of an address to Her Majesty praying the immediate completion of the grand scheme of Confeds eration. It would be a mere waste of time, though it might be instructive as showing the inconsistency and littleness of men at times, to analyze the speeches of those opposing the measure, for the sentiment throughout is as lamentable as the diction; and it would not reward us to arrange or our readers to peruse the platitudes and twaddle those speeches contain. So far as the sentiment goes, it is over-English and under English all through, It is not English principle, rejoicing at the extension of our national power in a consolidated form, and expressing itself thereat in lofty thoughts and burning words ; but English prejudice, uttering the pitiable

read every sentence carefully to find if possible some argument worthy of refutation, and we have failed in doing so. We repeat distinctly that, as the debate is reported, we can find no interpretation of this tempest in a teapot, other than that the question of Confederation has been reduced by every man who spoke against it to a mere paltry issue, involving colonial emolument, private interests and local position. And against this limited, unjust, contracted view we urge our protest. Regarded in such light, Confederation is stripped of all that grandeur of idea which constitutes its greatest charm and greatest power, and which in England and Canada gained for it a ready and warm support from the monarch, through all classes of statesmen, down to the populace of both countries, save and excepting the people of Nova Scotia, and a maj rity of the members in our Council. Both these, however, be it remembered, are actuated in reality by the same motive—the opposition of the one centering upon a trifling tariff, the opposition of the other springing from a question of salary. We should indeed regret intentionally to impute unjust or even wrong motives to such men as voted against the address, simply because we differ in opinion as to the necessity and value of immediate Confederation. Such conduct would do us no credit, and the cause we advocate no good. But what else are we to think, when we see men in every other relation of life intelligent, honest, patriotic, on calculy reviewing their conduct in this matter, but that they are untrue to themselves, their character and their country, and that a larking, unbecoming motive is really the cause of their apostacy. What means their persistent confession of an ignorance of Canadian affairs which is disgraceful; a reiteration of facts which are not actually true; of deductions which are positively erroneous; of a pre-judgment of Canadian honor which is simply dishonest-unless they had lost the spirit of manliness which has hitherto distinguished their private and public life, and were aiming at the accomplishment of a secret propose which they dere not seponly and boldly acknowledge? We are free to regret this action in the Legislature, whose labors otherwise will confer much good on the colony, but we must not be appalled by it; we have hoisted the flag of Confederation and we shall defend it, satisfied that in spite of Nova Scotia and the Council of British Columbia we shall see our possessions in the Occident and Orient joined firmly together by its power, and a nation created that will have no limits in the future.

What the reporter said of the lecturer :— The lecture last evening was a brilliant affair. The hall ought to have been filled. We are sorry to say only forty persons were present. The speaker commenced by saying that he was by brith an ecclessissical deduc-tion; gave a learned description of the devil that he was by birth an ecclesiastical decoution; gave a learned description of the devil and his skill in sawing trees. Among other things he stated that the Patriarch Abraham taught Cecrops arithmetic. We trust the eloquent divine may be induced to repeat the lecture at some future day. What the lecturer said of the reporter;—Dear Sir: In a report of my lecture in your beautiful city you have made some mistakes which I wish to correct. You make me speak of myself as by birth an 'ecclesiastical deduction." What I said was that I was not by birth, but only ecclesias ically, a Dutchman. Instead of speaking of the devil as sawing trees I spoke of him as sowing tares. I said nothing of Abraham, but spoke of the Arabians as nomads of patriarctal simplicity. I have said that Cecrops was the founder of Athens, and instructed the people in vericulture. instructed the people in vgriculture.

LONDON, April 28, midnight-In the House of Lords Derby attacked the resolutions of Gladstone on the Irish Church, and accused Russell of vacillating in his position on the question. He said the resolutions adopted by only one House were without binding force on the Crown, but if the bill were duly passed it would be obligatory. He criticized Lord Russell, alluded to his views on the subject and hoped to deteat his schemes, and Ireland would be saved. Earl Russell said he was amazed to see Lord Derby open-Carried Bollo White it was you pour ing in the Lower House, and declared with much earnestness that the peace of Ireland was the aim of his life. In case the resolutions pass the House he should submit an appropiate bill, which he ventured would be sustained by the Commons and public opinion, and would without doubt command the assent of the Upper House. The Ministry would not attempt to influence the Crown adversely to the will of the Commons, as a collision between the Crown and Commons would be a result to be deplored. In the House Disraeli, in announcing question, said the Ministry wished the fullest discussion of the Irish Church Establishment question.

London, Feb's 26, 1868. Mactavish vs. The Hudsons Bay Company This was a suit by the plaintiffs, on Dehall of themselves and the other Chief Factors and Chief Traders of the Hudson Bay Co. claiming to have the advantage of a rise in the value of the Hudson Bay house in Fen church street. Under the provisions of a deed poll dated in June, 1864 the Chief Factors and Chief Traders who are the officers having the control of the company's affairs in the Hudson Bay territory, in North America, are entitled to a certain share in the annual gains and profits of the company. and for the purpose of estimating these gains and profits in each year, there was to be placed on the debt side of each annual account the value of the fludson Bay house in London two years oack, with interest on in London two years nack, with interest on such value at 5 per cent for two years, and on the oredit side of such amount the value of the Hudson Bay house one year back, with interest at 5 per cent for one year From 1834 to 1865 there had been placed on both sides of the annual amounts a fixed sum of £18872 5 4d as the value of the Hudson Bay house. The company being thous to sall their old house in Franchisch. Hudson Bay house. The company being street and remove to Lime street, the attention of the plaintiff was called to the increase in the present value of the old house over its value in 1834, and they filed this bill to have the old amounts rectified, and the function of the present value of the old house over its value in 1834, and they filed this bill to have the old amounts rectified, and the function and with the permission of the House be would rather withdraw the resolution and ture amounts taken upon the principle pro-ture amounts taken upon the principle provided by the deed poll.

Mr Gillard, Q C, and Mr Harlon Smith, were for the plaintiffs; Mr Druce, Q C, Mr Montague Bere, of the Common Law Bar, and Mr Thurston Holland for the Company.

The Vice Chancellor said it was shown by the admissions of the Company that there had been a gradual rise in the value of the house, and that it was worth £36,000 more in 1865 than it had been in 1834. But from 1834 to 1860 there had been no very material increase in its value, the chief rise having taken place between 1860 and 1865. Under these circum tances the amounts must be these circum tances the amounts must be rectified from 1860, and in the accounts for that and the five following years a gradual increase of £6000 in the value of the house, in each year, must be entered in the amounts which were to be taken under the provisions of the deed poll.

Legislative Council.

Friday, April 26th, 1868.

Mr. DeCosmos, continued-The hon gen Mr. DeCosmos, continued—The hon gen-tleman (Dr Helmcken) spoke a great deal about milk, but he (hon DeCosmos) thought his discourse a milk and watery affair. If the hon gentleman had the advantage of some good Canadian milk, he would have acted differently to-night. And he should recommend the hon gentleman to so con-duct himself that he might soon be nourished with that milk. In reference to what the bon gentleman said about Canada dwindling down in the terms, how can we tell till we make the proposition. If the Governor had done right he would have communicated with the Canadian Government, and we should then have known what that Government would say. As for the unofficial communications of the people, the Canadian Government declared themselves Canadian Government declared themselves ready to accept the terms proposed. Does that look like dwindling down? Touching the possibility of the road not being complet ed, they would have an Imperial guarantee for that. But if the Canadians were to fail in their part of the conditions, and reluse redress, we could claim repeal of the Union. We could appeal to the parent Government, if the Canadian Government dishonored its pledges. We want to complete the consoli-dation of the nation, and to do that, the Canadian Government knows it must make Canadian Government knows it must make the overland road. Did the hon gentlemen think that the Dominion would stop at a paltry million of dollars? His went in for progressive measures. Confederation was approaching the high land on the eastern side of the Rocky Mountins, and the Imperial Government was approaching with its locomotive that would with its corner the acctor to the control of the push it over the eastern slope. If the Council relused its acquiescence it was quite immaterial, for as sure as God was in Heaven or the sun would rise, so sure was Confederation to stretch from the Atlantic to the Pacific. He was glad to find that his hon friend's naturally generous nature would tween old and new countrymen, it they have the attributes of machood, no matter whence they come. He would dely the first man to charge him with prejudice against old countrymen or new. Such things ought never to be mentioned. It was usual when a gentleman proposed to a lady to offer her his hand, (Hon Helmeken figuratively of course). Just so with the people of this country. Canada could live without this country. Loaded with debt and an official incubus, we were reduced to the miserable plight of voting $6,000 for education. in the entire colony. Would the Imperial Government guarantee a loan for us? The Canadian Government had a different idea of us, from what the hon gentleman supposed. The Canadian Government was based on 104. From what the non gentleman supposed of The Canadian Government was based on party, the party now in, was in favor of Confederation, and now was our time to go in. In 5 or 10 years, the country might be in a worse condition than it is now, and then we might not be received so readily. The hon gentleman's ideas about a free port were a myth. Such 'a consummation might arrive when free trade became general, but not till then. Canada follows the English principle, and will make a free port at Victoria it necessary. As for the seat of Government it would always remain at Victoria, until the country behind the Cascade Mountains was populated, and then the opital would grayitate lowards the centre. With the present population it was better to concentrate our means, but as the country advanced in importance, the seat of Overnment ebould be placed where it would best ment should be placed where it would best suit the interests of the people. The distinsuit the interests of the people. The distin-guished gentleman from Victoria district was one of those who had greatness thrust upon them. A year ago he was chosen to move the resolution for Confederation, one year afterwards, he voies in opposition to it, It would be charitable to believe he does not understand the question. To vote directly against Confederation without assigning against Confederation without assigning a reason may be regarded as unreasonable. But he feels uneasy least the Queen should take away the Navy. Does this Council rejects this measure, it does tot represent the people. He would carry the question not only to the Canadian Gavernment, but to Down. to the Canadian Government, but to Down to the Canadian Government, but to Downing street. He had considered the unanimous vote given last session, and for that reason had deferred going to Downing street. The people had now but one duty to perform, in order to be true to themselves, they must put no trust in Government or paid officials, and two thirs of this Council was composed of paid officials. It was cil was composed of paid officials. It was his deliberate purpose to secure. Confederation to this country, as othat we might have a Government based on the confidence of the popular. In start paid was that account ber those who oppose us as our enemies is not the policy of the Dominional Gov m nt, to remove any officer who may now m nt, to remove any officer who may now hold a position, by this means the country would be kept together. But some amongst them may yet have to rue the day that they opposed Coolederation. It was not to be apposed that the people would keep a class of men in office who opposed their wants. The only spoke as one man, but in doing so he spoke words which will find their tuffingth.

"MULFORD" ON SHORT SKIRTS .-

Prentice Mulford, in a letter to the Stockton Gazette, says:

The superiority of the present style of short skirts was nevermiore apparent than during the present wet season. One cannot avoid regarding the girls on Montgomery street at present with interest. They trip so free and unobstructive. The brevity of their dresses is graded according to character and temperament. Very modest and retiring females have about an inch and a half between the bottom of the gowns and the pavement. Cheerful girls, two and a half. Lively girls, who skirmish around the confines of the church, and teach a class in Sunday school to keep up appearances, four inches. Gay girls, who know what they are about, but will ride out to the Cliff House with a respectably dissipated man if they want to do so, four and three quarters. Fast girls, DISRAELI.-The lesson of perseverance taught in the success of this celebrated man is, notwithstanding, a most striking one. He had, even to enter public life at all, to overcome the prejudices felt against him as a Jew, a fop, and a satirist. He tried three times to get returned to Parliament and failed. In 1831, at High Wycombe, as a radical candidate; in 1833, at Marylebone, as a radical; and in 1835, at Taunton, as a conservative. In 1837, after seven years unsuccessful canvassing, he entered the House of Commons for Maidstono, and was laughed and coughed down in his first tawdy attempt to address that fastidious assembly. As he sat down, pale with the white heat of passion, he uttered aloud the memorable prophecy : "I have begun several times many things and have often succeeded at last. I shall now sit down; but the time will come when you will hear me." And the time did come. Before three years, he was one of the speakers in the House most attentively listened to; and in 1848, on the death of Lord Geo. Bentinck, he became the organized Parliamentary leader of the Conservative party-minus the Peelites. Thirtyeight-sixty-eight! The overdressed dandy and satirist, as fleshy in his rhetoric as in his rig. is Chancellor of the Exchequer and Prime Minister of England !

A MAN named McDonald, engaged in smuggling over the lines, fled from the United States to Canada. He was pursued by a Sheriff of Michigan, seized on Canadian soil, and carried off to the United ment. This caused a correspondence with the United States Government, and Mr Seward ordered that the man be set free on Canadian soil. Mr Thornton wrote in reply to Mr Seward :-

"I bope you will believe that we can have no sympathy with the individual in question who showed so great as want of good faith on the occasion; nor was the representation I made to you inspiged by any wish to withdraw a convicted criminal from punishment. but was for the mere purpose of inviting your assistance to the prevention of any con-dict between the authorities of our two coun-tries. I therefore take upon myself the appreciate the straightforward manner in which you have treated the matter."

TOBACCO FOR THE CONVICTS .- Austria, we believe, was the first nation to permit the use of tobacco by its convicts while they were undergoing confinement, the 'weed' being found to exert a southing effect upon the dispositions of the wretched men and render them less liable to outbreak. The practice has been copied by most Continental countries, and has just been introduced here with very happy results. At stated periods of the day the convicts are permitted to take a pull at the f dudbeen,' and it is not an uncommon circumstance to see the entire gang enjoying their 'oaccy' with an air of comfort which betokens the intense satisfaction the indulgence afterds them.

JEFF. DAVIS .- After the long time which has elapsed since the capture and primary examination of the great Chief of the Southern rebellion, and the complete manner during the interim in which he had retired from public observation and notice, we find the subject of his final trial again occupy. ing a prominent place in American politics and that arrangements are being or have been made to bring him to trial at the May term of the Supreme Court of Virginia. The press of America is now divided upon the advisability of the step after so long a delay, THEATRE ROYAL .- To-night the glorious extravaganza of . Parahontan' will be presented with a splendid cast of characters, prominent in which we are glad to see our local favorite, Mr. Clarke. We predicted Mr Clarke's success as 'John Perrybingle' and we think as 'Capt John Smith' his talents will be again conspicuously drawn out. The entertainment will close with the 'Household Fairy or an Angel's Visit,' and from what we hear the house will be crowded. Amy Stone is pronounced the best ' Pocahontas' on the American stage.

Excussion -The steamer Enterprise has been chartered by the committee of the Mechanics' Institute to convey a party of excursionists from Victoria to the ironclad Zealous, on the 25th of May. As many of our citizens have not yet inspected this splendid specimen of naval architecture, they will doubtless avail themselves of the opportunity thus afforded of doing so.

ARRIVAL FROM JAPAN -The British ship Ellen, Capt. Wood, thirty-five days from Yokohama, arrived in the outer harbor last evening. The Ellen is bound for a mill on Puget Sound, but owing to the illness of the captain, who is suffering from dropsy, she put in here to procure medical aid. civil war continued to rage with undiminished fury in Japan.

FIRST OF MAY.-Yesterday was very generally observed as a holiday. A few stores were opened for a short time in the morning, and then the town was quite de-Picnic and riding parties were scouring; the country in all directions. The day wis delightful, except towards evening when a cold nor'wester blew up. FIRE .- The house of C F Green at Esquimalt, was discovered on fire yesterday afternonn. A telegram was sent to this city for the firemen, who turned out promptly, but before they had proceeded far, a second tel fram was received stating that it had been subdhed. The Monicipal Real Estate Assessment Roll for 1868 is ready for publication. It is a formidable-looking document and comprises a list of all the real estate within the city limits.

FIRE -Bunster's brewery and grist mil were totally destroyed by fire at 1 o'clock this morning. The conflagration is raging as we go to press.

TROUT FISHING .- The lakes are very largely visited by disciples of Walton, and the catch is generally good. At Prospect Lake on Monday one gentleman hooked 84 splendid fellows.

THE steamship George S Wright reached Portland yesterday morning, and the steamship Active sailed from the same port at 6 o'clock last evening for Victoria.

THE wires went down about 8 o'clock last evening, leaving us without our summary of Council proceedings.

Sr. Joun's Church .- His Lordship the Bishop will preach at this church on next Sunday evening at the usual hour.

THE MAILS .- The Active will be due here to-m orrow morning. PROROGUED. -The Council was prorogued yesterday. No particulars were received. VICTORIA RIFLE CORPS .- Position dril Tuesday and Friday at 8 p. m. By Order

Royal Artillery.—Holloway's Ointment and Pills.—A serjeant in the Royal Artillery writes, on December 12th, 1862, from Poonamattee. Madras Presidency, that his right leg, from the ankle to the cali, was a quagmire of disease and corruption that he was on the hospital roll for twelve months without any improvement in his case; that he, as a forlorn hope, resolved to try Hofloway's circirated Dinhi ent and Pills. These soon gave case, expelled the bad humours from and restored him to sound health. Soldiers and sailors are earnestly recommended to have recourse to these invaluable medicaments for curing old wounds, sores, or ulcers-more particularly when they have arisen from imprudence, and seem incurable.

PIMPLES, BLOTCHES,

and roughness of the skin generally arise from deprayed or vitiated humors. Bristol's Sarsap-arilla is the best of all known purifiers of the blood and humors. This unfailing detergent neutralizes the poison, and occasional doses of Bristol's Sugarcoated Pills, taken at same time, purge out the unhealthy secretions, insuring a smooth, white, soft skin and an and 584 medical disoveries, founded on the principles of Chemistry and Therapeutics. They must not be confounded with secret or quack medicines, as their names suffici ently indicate their composition; a circumstance which has caused them to be appreciated and prescribed by the Faculty in the whole world. They widely differ from those numerous medicines advertised in the public papers as able to cure every possible disease, as they are applicable only to but a very few complaints. The most stringent laws exist in France with regard to the sale of medical preparations, and only those which have under gone an examination by the Academy of Medicine and have been proved efficacious, either in the hospitals or in the practice of the first medicalmen, are authorise by the Government. This fact must be a guarantee for the excellence of Mesars. Grimault et Co.'s Medi-
